

How to improve your score

Follow buyer requirements to the detail

The more you know about what your buyers want, the better you can meet (or exceed!) their expectations.

Keep your buyers updated

Make your buyers feel like you've got their back - be quick to respond and share updates on their orders.

Get early feedback on your work

Get a feel for what your buyers are thinking and be flexible about making changes before the order is completed.

Tell buyers what else you have to offer

Buyers often need extra services delivered. Let them know how else you can add value to an ongoing order.

Offer Gig subscriptions

By gaining repeat orders using Subscriptions, you can establish buyer trust and business security for yourself.
